

CREATE A HYBRID DIGITAL WORKPLACE FOR FINANCIAL SERVICES

ENTERING A NEW ERA OF WORK

FSIs are entering a “new normal” of work, where employees want to work at any time from any location—inside or outside the office—efficiently and effectively.

To help FSIs enter this new era with confidence, HPE and its partners offer a portfolio of high-performance virtual desktop infrastructure (VDI) solutions that:

- Conform to FSI’s stringent security and compliance requirements
- Improve workplace flexibility
- Enhance space utilization
- Achieve sustainability goals with reduced carbon emissions of up to 50%

With HPE VDI solutions—powered by Intel® Xeon® 3rd Gen Scalable processors—FSIs can reinvent the way they work.

WHAT IS THE NEW NORMAL?

69%

of financial services firms expect at least three-fifths of their workforce to telecommute at least once a week.¹

97%

of current remote workers want to work remotely some of the time for the rest of their careers.²

75%

of the time spent on financial services activities can be done remotely with no loss of productivity.³
