Some of personal information that we collect may be considered sensitive under these laws. To the extent we collect personal information, we only use and disclose it for purposes that are recognized and are not subject to a right to limit. For example, we use sensitive information to conduct anti-money laundering and other regulatory checks and for purposes that do not infer characteristics about you.

Sources. We may collect certain categories of personal data from you and other third parties as described in the “How we use personal data” section in our Privacy Statement. The categories of third parties from whom we may collect personal data include the following:

- Partners, resellers and/or distributors;
- Public authorities;
- Third party applications (such as social networks);
- Advertising networks; and
- Other companies or organizations (such as market research firms and data aggregators).

Retention. We keep personal data for the length of any contractual relationship and, to the extent permitted by applicable laws, after the end of that relationship for as long as necessary to perform purposes set out in the Privacy Statement, to protect HPE from legal claims and administer our business. When we no longer need to use personal data, we will delete it from our systems and records or take steps to anonymize the data unless we need to keep it longer to comply with a legal or regulatory obligation.

Your rights in relation to your personal data., ,

Consumer Rights may vary depending on where you reside, and you may have the following privacy rights under applicable state laws

- Right to request categories and specific pieces of personal information collected; categories of sources from which personal information is collected; business or commercial purpose for collecting, selling, and sharing personal information; and categories of third parties to whom information is disclosed;
- Right to Access: a right to request information on how we process your personal information and obtain a copy.
- Right to Correct: a right to correct your personal information if inaccurate or incomplete
- Right to Delete: a right to request the deletion of personal information collected about you (with some exceptions)
- Right to opt out: a right to limit or opt out of the use of personal information for certain purposes.
- Right to Opt Out of Sale/Targeted Advertising: Certain state privacy laws provide eligible residents with the right to opt out of the “sale” or “sharing” of your personal information for “targeted advertising” purposes, as such terms are defined under applicable privacy laws. We do not sell the personal information we collected about you through this Site.
- Rights Regarding Sensitive Personal Information: Certain pieces of personal information that we have about you may be considered “sensitive” under applicable laws. Depending on where you reside and subject to exceptions, you may have certain rights to opt in or opt out/limit the processing of personal information that may be considered sensitive under applicable privacy laws.
- Right to Portability. A right to obtain your personal information in a structured, commonly used machine-readable format and to have that information transmitted to another organization in certain circumstances.

- Right to non-discrimination in exercising your rights. HPE will not discriminate when you exercise your privacy rights

If you wish to exercise any of the rights described in this section, you may use the following methods to submit a request in relation to your personal data:

- Contact the HPE Privacy Office via an email;
- Contact the HPE Privacy Office by completing the form available here;
- Contact the HPE Privacy Office via the toll-free number 1-866-I-OPT-OUT (i.e., 1-866-4-678-688) and by choosing HPE code 115.

You must include your name, street address, city, state, and zip code in your request. You may be asked to provide additional proof of identification so that we can verify your identity and validate the request. Please note that in order to opt-out from Automatic Data Collection Tools you need to use ~~“Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information”~~ link and web page as we do not have the ability to connect your name with your device(s).

To the extent that you elect to designate an authorized agent to make a request on your behalf, the above methods to submit a request apply. Please note that you are limited by law in the number of requests you may submit per year.

Certain US state privacy laws allow residents to appeal a denial of a submitted privacy rights request. For additional information on how to appeal a submitted request, please email hpeprivacy@hpe.com

“Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information”. By using Automatic Data Collection Tools on our websites and applications, we may share some of your digital activity information with third parties in order to receive information about performance of our marketing campaigns. You have the right, as a California resident, to opt-out of the “sale” of your personal data or the “sharing” of your personal information for certain targeted advertising activities, i.e., our use of Automatic Data Collection Tools. If you wish to exercise this right, please click on the “Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Information” link available at the hpe.com home page and exercise your opt-out right on the subsequent landing page.

California residents can also turn on the Global Privacy Control (GPC) to opt out of the “sale” or sharing of your personal information for each participating browser systems that you use. Learn more at the Global Privacy Control website.
