Features

Simple, Secure, and Efficient Secondary Data and Application Platform

Empowers organizations to protect data and applications, backup and manage a broad set of workloads, and recover rapidly. Supported from the core to the cloud with one management GUI.

Offers an agile cloud consumption experience through a simplified as-a-service offering for apps and data from edge-to-cloud. Pay as you grow [1] with choice of on-prem, in the cloud, and as a service through our HPE GreenLake Flex Solution.

Delivers built-in security—Be confident with enterprise-grade, built-in safeguards including data segmentation, in-flight/at-rest software-based encryption, immutable snapshots, unlimited zero-cost clones, secure multi-tenancy, role-based access control, and instant ransomware recovery.

Higher throughput and bandwidth capabilities of flash media combined with Cohesity's superior and proprietary space savings technologies mean even fewer licensed nodes required to meet performance and usable capacity needs, making all-flash more cost-effective than ever before.

Built for Cloud

Unifies management—Easily control the entire data environment, from edge to cloud, with one management GUI and simple policy-based automation.

Extends seamlessly to the cloud - Easily bridge from on-premises to public cloud for cost-effective long-term retention, storage tiering, test and development, disaster recovery, and data mobility with confidence.

Optimizes cloud investment—Reduce time, cost, and network bandwidth for cloud storage with highly efficient global, in-line, variable-length, sliding-window deduplication, and compression.

Boost Cyber Resilience and Security

Leverages zero trust security principles—From silicon to cloud. Solutions that have security built-in from the ground up, not bolted on.

Secures data—With immutability, multi-factor authentication, and encryption to fully protect the enterprise.

Fortifies the enterprise against threats—Using Cohesity DataHawk with HPE ProLiant servers to create a comprehensive security environment from core to cloud.
